The South Amboy Municipal Alliance in cooperation with the South Amboy Board of Education and the YMCA of South Amboy invites you to a parent workshop that will increase your awareness with an interactive tour to see what could be hidden in a child's bedroom.

Hidden in Plain Sight is a hands-on interactive learning opportunity presented by Special Agent Timothy P. McMahon, Public Information Office, Drug Enforcement Administration, NJ Division, Newark. Using an actual bedroom that you can walk through, Tim will highlight signs and symptoms of alcohol/drug abuse and teach skills for proactive parenting. This presentation will give you tools to address possible problems.

For ALL parents, caregivers, adults over 21, community members, educators and adults working with youth. No one under 21 will be permitted to attend.

For more information please contact Patrick McCabe at 732-316-7669

The South Amboy YMCA will be providing child care at the event, so feel free to drop your kids off for some supervised fun in the cafeteria while you attend Hidden in Plain Sight!
